

ISAHP 2022 – XVII International Symposium

Virtual Meeting / December 15 – 18, 2022

Call for Papers

Decision-Making in Business Practice

ISAHP2022 theme is “Decision-Making in Business Practice”. This year we aim to bridge the gap between academia and business practice and work together to propose new ways, improve the existing methodologies, evaluate, and analyze the ways that AHP/ANP have been combined to other theories and applied in practice.

The focus of ISAHP2022 is to showcase the latest research and practical applications from resource allocation to contract negotiation, and conflict resolution along with changes and updates in the methodological steps needed to gain in practicality and applicability.

Interested AHP/ANP participants need to submit a 2 page extended abstract following the ISAHP2022 submission guidelines available on the conference website. This year we are introducing a Best Paper Award based on a full paper submission. More details about this process will be published on our website.

ISAHP2022 is accepting paper submissions in the program topics listed below.

POSTERS PRESENTATIONS

We are glad to announce that the ISAHP2022 conference will also accept poster presentations. An effective poster presentation will help your study be known by colleagues and get your main point(s) across to as many people as possible. Also, the scientific committee may determine that a specific submission is more suitable for a poster presentation.

JOURNAL PUBLICATION OPPORTUNITIES

While this submission will be enough for reviewing and acceptance purposes, participants are encouraged to follow up with a full paper and submit it to the International Journal of the Analytic Hierarchy Process (IJAH) within 12 weeks after the ISAHP event for revision and eventual publication in a special issue or as part of a special section dedicated to the symposium in the first and/or second IJAH issue in 2023. Additional publication opportunities will be announced in the ISAHP2022 website.
